

Locatelli and Three Companions Rescued by Crew of the Richmond

Italian Aviator Found Last Night 125 Miles Off Greenland Coast.

HAD DRIFTED 100 MILES

Forced Down by Motor Trouble and Unable to Make Plane Rise, Commander Tells Rescuers: Orders It Destroyed; Americans at Light.

By United Press.
ON BOARD THE U. S. S. RICH-MOND, Aug. 25.—Lieutenant Locatelli, the missing Italian aviator, and his three flying companions, were rescued by the Richmond at 11:35 last night.

The American cruiser came upon the stricken 125 miles east of Cape Farwell, Greenland. The crew were very much fatigued from their harrowing experience in the ice seas.

"Motor trouble forced us down," Locatelli said. "We made desperate efforts to make the plane rise but we couldn't do it." He had drifted at least 100 miles.

Because he did not wish to impose any further trouble on the American vessel Locatelli ordered his machine destroyed. The region where Locatelli was forced down is frozen both with ash and snow, and the ice is unmanageable for the icebreaker.

Locatelli carried rockets in his plane which he used in attracting the rescuers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Lieutenant Locatelli, the Italian aviator who had been missing since Thursday, has been picked up by the U. S. S. Richmond off the coast of Greenland, the Army Air Service was advised officially today. A dispatch received from the Richmond stated that the aviator was picked up at 11:35 last night. The dispatch read:

"Locatelli found, latitude 59 55
longitude 70 45. Sighted at 11:35 P.
M. Embarked passengers. All well."

DEATH ENDS LONG AND ACTIVE CAREER OF REV. J. B. REED

Rev. John Bryce Reed, 85 years old, pastor emeritus of Laurel Hill Presbyterian Church, died Saturday at his home, 40 Highland avenue, Uni-town, where he has been living, a semi-retired life for eight years. Rev.
Reed had been ailing for the past year. He lost his eyesight a year ago and then followed evidence of other infirmities of age. From the time of his leaving at Laurel Hill until a year ago he was quite active as a supply pastor and occupied many pulpits in the Robinson Presbytery.

Rev. Reed was born on the "Mount Hope" farm, in Hopewell township, Washington county, April 5, 1839, a son of Parker and Jane A. Bryce Reed.
He spent his early life on the farm and attended the public school there and the academy at Upper Buffalo in the fall of 1858 he entered the junior class of Washington College and was graduated in 1860. He then entered the Western Theological Seminary from which he was graduated in May, 1863, having received his license to preach at the end of his second year in the seminary. At the time of his graduation Rev. Adam Terrence, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of New Alexandria, had gone to war with a regiment from that county as chaplain, and Rev. Reed was offered his pulpit, which he accepted and filled for one year. On December 31, 1865, he received a call to the First Presbyterian Church of Parkersburg, W. Va., remaining there eight years. His next two churches were the Presbyterian Church of Steubenville, where he remained for 11 years, and the First Presbyterian Church of Fairmont, remaining there eight years. In 1888 he became pastor of the Laurel Hill Presbyterian Church, which has the pride of record of being the first Presbyterian office building west of the Alleghenies. While he was pastor of the church Fayette county residents came to know and respect him.

A new brick church was erected in 1897; a parsonage was built the same year, a house built for the sexton and a new 10-acre cemetery laid out on the adjoining lot.

Rev. Reed celebrated the 50th year of his work in the ministry at Laurel Hill and also the golden wedding anniversary of his marriage to Isabella J. Shindler. The ceremony was celebrated May 12, 1864, at New Alexandria.
Besides his wife Rev. Reed is survived by daughters, Mrs. Harry J.
Bell, wife of Dr. Bell, of Dawson;
Mrs. Elmer R. Hopwood and Mrs. Ellis
P. Phillips, both of Greensburg; Mr.
M. S. Slayter of Oakley, Cal.; and Mrs. J. Melvin Smith of Philadelphia.
Mrs. Fred D. Munson of Connellsville is a granddaughter.

Funeral arrangements are being delayed pending the arrival of Mrs. Slayter. The ceremony will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Second Presbyterian Church, Uniontown. Rev.
Dr. W. Scott Bowman will officiate.
He will be assisted by other clergymen of Uniontown. The interment will be made in Oak Grove cemetery.

Monongahela Golf Club Plays Wednesday At Pleasant Valley

Monongahela golfers will play a return match with the devotees of the club at Pleasant Valley Country defeated the locals in the first meet but the Pleasant Valley players are hopeful of turning the tables. A firm grip on many Connellsville business and professional men. Almost any day may be seen at a score of them who could not have been dragged from their places of business until the golf fever became prevalent.

It is anticipated that 40 men will be here for the sport. Following the tourney a dinner will be served at the Pleasant Valley club house.
All male members of the club,
whether participating in the golf play or not, are invited to attend the dinner.

COUNTRESS ESCAPES GILDED CAGE.

"I was merely a bird in a gilded cage," asserts Countess Milder Treahy, formerly Beverly West of the New York stage, in asking a New York divorce from Count Serge Treahy, former Russian nobleman, now president of a motor corporation, with an income of $50,000 a year. She declares he locked her in each morning when he went to his office and kept her locked in until his return in the evening.

2,500 PERSONS ATTEND ANNUAL GRANGE OUTING

Address on "Rural Leadership" Features Big Gathering at Dawson Park.

DR. H. G. KNIGHT SPEAKER

The Dawson Grange capped the honors of the sports picnic at Dawson Driving Park Saturday, where close to 2,500 persons from every part of the county spent the day. Dr. H.
G. Knight, director of the agriculture extension department in the West Virginia University, was the speaker of the day, his subject being "Rural Leadership." More than 1,000 persons thronged the dining hall to hear Dr.
Knight speak.

In his address Dr. Knight pointed out four essentials necessary to the rural man to become a leader as he follows: First, his word must be as good as his bond; second, he must have both in himself, third faith in a thing he is attempting to do, last, support of education in the rural district.

In dwelling upon the first essential,
Dr. Knight repeated an opinion of a leading banker in the West who said that the rural man wants to borrow money but he must be urged to pay it back. His word is not as good as his bond.

In speaking on the second and requisite, faith in humanity, it was shown where many leaders in business have made wonderful records due to the leader's faith in his men.
"The farmer is the backbone of his neighbor," Dr. Knight pointed out.
Although generous to men, he is found to be hard on his neighbor.
When prices in wheat or other grain also, he tries to beat his neighbor to the market, thereby reducing the prices. The rural man needs cooperation with one another," Dr.
Knight added. "Greater faith in a man's farm and anything he undertakes is apt to make it a very successful undertaking" he said regarding the third element. Better support of education in the rural districts is needed to adapt the children to the new conditions arising on the farm.
Dr. Knight and in conclusion of his speech.

W. N. Gaskill acted as chairman and introduced C. L. Rumberger of Uniontown who in turn introduced Dr.
Knight. An orchestra from Portopolis furnished the music in the dining hall and later in the day played for the square dance in the hall. Miss Ruth Wade

LOCAL GAS OFFICIALS KNOW NOTHING OF BIG PROSPECTIVE MERGER

At the offices of the Fayette County Gas Company today it was said nothing was known concerning a reported prospective merger of the company with others in Western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio except what was published in Pittsburg papers. The Pittsburg story reads:
"Rumor was current in Pittsburg Saturday that three large gas and electric companies will be included in the merger of the Manufacturers
Light and Heat Company, the Ohio
Fuel Supply Company and the Union
Natural Gas Company.

"The Columbia Gas and Electric Company, the Peoples Natural Gas Company and the Fayette County Gas Company are reported to be considering the consolidation. However, officials said there is a doubt of the Columbia Company entertaining the merger for some time.

"If these concerns are merged into one, it will have a capital of $144-$56,600, and assets that will aggregate $261,132,653. In addition to supplying gas and heat throughout Western Pennsylvania, Eastern and Central Ohio, and some points in West Virginia, it would also entail the oil holdings of the companies.

"The Columbia Company, in addition to gas and electric holdings, controls the Cincinnati street car system. The Fayette Company supplies gas in Uniontown, Connellsville and intermediate territories, and the People's Company supplies almost every large district between Pittsburg and Altoona."

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25.—A move by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey to gain control of the gas fields of Western Pennsylvania was seen today in the proposed merger of five or six gas companies. The Peoples Natural Gas Company, whose stock is held by Standard Oil is reported about to combine with the Manufacturers Light & Heat Company, Ohio Fuel Supply Company, Fayette County Gas Company, Fayette County Natural Gas Company and possibly the Ohio Fuel Oil Company.

Officials of these concerns said today the negotiations were still in a discussion stage and that nothing definite has yet been decided.

Bob Baxter Meets Old Friend of the Argonne Forest

Reminiscences of a rainy, blustering night in the Argonne Forest were renewed at the state convention of the American Legion at Greensburg Saturday when Robert W. Baxter of Connellsville and Lieutenant Charles A.
Goebert of Tananum, met for the first time since the war. The lieutenant found himself that night without a blanket and shelter and "Bob" Baxter, who was in charge of a wagon train, invited him to his quarters and also supplied him with garments to replace his water-soaked ones. They became fast friends. And there was evidence that friendship had not been lessened in the heavy handshakes when the two met at the convention. Both were members of the 5th Infantry.

Goebert, at the convention, met Cor-rell J. Poole, deputy commander of the 24th District, and inquired if he knew Baxter. The reunion followed.
During the convention Baxter met up with another old friend in the person of Sergeant Samuel Woodfill, who is credited with having slain 19 Germans in a forest encounter.

Lamp Explodes and Flames Burn Home

Fire, resulting from the explosion of a kerosene lamp, last night destroyed the home of George Businger, along Mount creek near the DeMuth farm. The flames spread rapidly and no effort to check them availed.

Businger was trapped in his bedroom and was forced to jump from a window to escape with his life. He was slightly injured by the fall. Mrs.
Businger suffered burns endeavoring to save furniture from the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Businger and four children were in the house at the time. The former had retired and was awakened by his wife. They spent the remainder of the night at the home of a neighbor.

Early Morning Fire Damages Barber Shop

The barber shop of Albert Pelogel, at the Corner of Water and Apple streets, was damaged by fire early this morning. It is believed by the fire men that electric wires caused the flames.

Playgrounds Are Closed for Year

The city playgrounds have closed for the season, and were dismantled Friday and Saturday. The equipment was stored in the basement of the City Hall.

The season was considered a successful one although the plans which called for more extensive work were not carried out owing to business conditions prevailing this year. Mrs.
Lucy Jones, vice-president of the Connellsville Recreational Association, was in charge of the work and Somerset Ald was playgrounds supervisor.

DENUNCIATION OF KLAN BY DAVIS WAS IN SELF DEFENSE

Intended to Counteract Appeal of LaFollette to Anti-Klan Groups.

WILL NOT SQUELCH ISSUE

In States Where Order in Jersey as Active Campaign; New Jersey Selected for Pronouncement by Davis
Because of Unpopularity to New York.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
Copyright 1924 by The Courier.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The Ku Klux Klan issue which rocked the Democratic National Convention and has kept the party quivering ever since has been revived.

The speech of Mr. Davis at Sea Girt, N. J., in which he denounced the Klan by name is full of significance and may be said to mark even at this early date a turning point in the campaign. There are few observers here who doubt that President Coolidge will meet it squarely, in fact the expectation has been all along that the President would at the proper time come out in denunciation of the Klan.

Senator LaFollette has already condemned the Klan and Mr. Davis in his invitation to the President to join him in removing the troublesome Klan issue from this campaign has taken a step which many Republicans and Democrats now feel will serve to eliminate the whole controversy so far as the presidential candidates are concerned.

But it will not squelch the issue totally. There are many states in which the Klan is conducting an active campaign and there is no doubt that the national ticket will be to some extent affected by the local quarrels. Until Mr. Davis denounced the Klan by name he was regarded by some of his own Democrats as friendly as inclined to avoid being specific. His speech at Clarkburg declaring he never would apply a religious test in making appointments if elected was satisfactory to many of the Democratic leaders but the rank and file would not be satisfied with anything less than an explicit denunciation in unequivocal terms.

The state of New Jersey just now is seething with Klan discussion. The Democratic party in New Jersey is divided into two camps. One is the Klan and the other is the anti-Klan.
The Klan is plain in the Madison Square Garden convention Mr. Davis rejected New Jersey as the place for his anti-Klan speech because it would have greatest effect there and would be received favorably, too, in the neighboring state of New York.

Mr. Davis' decision to name the Klan specifically was not unexpected.
This correspondent referred to his intention immediately after the Clarkburg declaration speech. In that address Mr. Davis felt that he must conform to the letter of the party platform adopted in New York which did not mention the Klan. He made no secret of the fact that before the campaign was over he planned to deal comprehensively with the Klan issue in all its aspects.

President Coolidge has told friends who have asked him about it from time to time that he saw no reason to express himself on the Klan issue until the occasion required it. The Republican National platform declared in general terms for the constitutional guarantees of religious freedom. The Democratic platform condemned organizations which had for their object the promotion of racial or religious hatreds. Mr. Coolidge watched the development of the Klan fight at the New York convention and it was suggested at the time that before the campaign was over he would write a letter making his position clear.

Democratic leaders today feel sure that Mr. Coolidge would accept the suggestion of Mr. Davis and denounce the Klan because avoidance of the Klan, they argued, would be promptly construed in the big eastern states as a fear of antagonizing the Klan.

The main source of Coolidge strength are just now in the eastern states where the Klan promises to be a vital issue in local campaigns.
Should any of the Klan organizations attach themselves to the Coolidge banner even though unwelcome they would tend to throw votes of the opponents of the Klan toward Davis and LaFollette.

Mr. Davis' move, however, was not so much concerned with what President Coolidge might do. It was really a stroke in self-defense—for Senator LaFollette and Senator Wheeler have begun to appeal to the anti-Klan groups many of which are normally Democratic especially in the eastern states. Whether Mr. Coolidge comes out against the Klan or remains silent, the Democrats are anxious to show that their nominees are protective of the Klan from their threat to support LaFollette.

SMALLPOX RAN TRUE TO FORM IN RECENT OUTBREAK IN WEST

Attacked Unvaccinated Persons and Those Who Had Lost Protection.

ONLY EFFECTIVE MEANS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Through the courtesy of the state health officer of Minnesota, Surgeon General Cummings of the Public Health Service is able to furnish the following information with regard to an outbreak of malignant smallpox beginning in Minnesota in the early part of this year.

The disease was introduced at Duluth in January, 1921. The first case was that of a male nurse, 25 years of age who had never been successfully vaccinated and who died within a few days. Subsequently there developed other cases making a total of 187 for this epidemic.

It is interesting to note that 139 of the persons who had smallpox had never been successfully vaccinated in their lives. Of these 139 persons who had never been successfully vaccinated, 34 died. Of the remaining 45 persons who had the disease, 39 had not been successfully vaccinated within seven years and of these 39, six died. This leaves four cases still to be accounted for. Of these four had been vaccinated in less than seven years, but did not die from the disease. Two others had had smallpox when they were children and they recovered. Of those persons who died, although they had been once successfully vaccinated, we have the following histories:

One woman, age 59 was vaccinated in childhood; one aged 49 was vaccinated when eight years old. One woman 34 years of age, who was not in very good physical condition at the time she contracted the disease had been vaccinated in childhood. One man, 37 years of age had been vaccinated when he was three and a half years old. One man 55 years of age had been vaccinated when he was six months old. One man who was 25 years of age had been vaccinated when he was one year old.

From these data, which have been very carefully collected, it will be seen that smallpox still runs true to form in that it attacks persons who are either not protected by vaccination at all or who lost the protection which they once had.

Smallpox has never occurred to any appreciable extent in persons who have been recently, successfully vaccinated.

The fact should be emphasized that one vaccination is not sufficient to protect an individual throughout life. The child should be successfully vaccinated before he enters school; he should be successfully vaccinated again between the ages of 12 and 20 and vaccination should again be repeated between 40 and 50.

Vaccination should be performed at any time when one is exposed to smallpox providing there has not been a successful vaccination within 12 months.

As at present performed, vaccination causes very little inconvenience, especially when compared to an attack of smallpox. The first successful vaccination usually causes more inconvenience than subsequent ones.

The production of vaccine is carefully supervised and physicians no longer use the cross vaccination method in performing this operation.

One of the best methods of vaccination is to make a short incision or scratch, a single line, just penetrating the upper layer of skin, stopping just short of drawing blood. Of course, the arm must be cleaned, the instrument sterile, and fresh vaccine should be used. If more than one line is made, care must be exercised to have them far enough apart so that they will not "run together." These lines should not be closer together than two inches.

Another method of the use of a little instrument which makes a very small abrasion on the skin, scarcely more than 1-16 inch in diameter. If two such abrasions are made, these should be at least two inches apart.

There is no country in the world where vaccination and re-vaccination have been so successfully carried out to eradicate smallpox completely, but wherever vaccination has been practiced, smallpox has diminished in proportion.

A comparison of the smallpox situation during a five year period in three states which do not differ greatly in number of inhabitants, shows what can be done to prevent this disease.

In the five years 1919-1923, both inclusive, there were 114 cases of smallpox reported in Massachusetts as against 15,334 in Michigan and 18,223 in California. While the number of cases in Massachusetts decreased from 40 in 1919 to six in 1923, the decrease in Michigan was but 160, from 2,460 in the first named year to 2,341 in the last named year. In California there was an increase from 2,602 cases in 1919 to 2,625 in 1923. In 1922 there were 5,581 cases in the Pacific coast state.

MONDAY EVENING, AUG. 20, 1934.

THIS IS YOUR DUTY.

The day and one-half intervening with the celebration of the opening of the Connelville-to-Farmington road will be ample time for people of the city to make arrangements to attend this very important event.

Occurring on Wednesday the last mid-week half holiday of the season there will be nothing but indifference on the part of citizens to cause them to stay at home. That will be so poor an excuse that none can offer it with the expectation that it will be accepted.

The people in the mountain district realize the importance of the event more fully than do many Connelvilleans. They look forward to it as one of the very few opportunities that have been provided to mingle with their neighbors living in the city.

It will be the little sheet of discredit, if we do not turn out in force and form a parade that will be truly representative of the interest the town should have in so significant an event as officially opening the initial improvement on what will ultimately become the connecting link between two thriving but more or less isolated sections of the county.

Show yourself to be in hearty sympathy with and willing to cooperate in carrying this improvement to completion by taking part in the parade, then playing next neighbor to our friends to the east whom you will meet in here on the road at Pleasant Hill. This is your duty it ought to be to your pleasure.

MORE THAN AN ANSWER TO DAVIS' CHALLENGE.

While some persons will construe General Dawes' comments on the Ku Klux Klan in his speech in August 1933, as an answer to the more or less dramatic challenge of John W. Davis for the Republican nomination to join with him in removing this issue from political debate, the reference to the subject by General Dawes was intended to serve another purpose.

What he said has been raised left no doubt in any person's mind that General Dawes will be hesitant in answering the arguments or statements or in refuting the claims of the opposition during the campaign.

In his address General Dawes made use of the Klan question to emphasize the dangers which have developed from the attack by "organized minorities" on some of the fundamental principles of our government. The things the Klan has alleged to have done in some sections, notably in Oklahoma and at Harrisburg, are a forecast of what may be expected if there is not a halt in the tendency to resort to other than the orderly processes provided by the Constitution and the law.

TO General Dawes the Ku Klux Klan typifies, no less than do the radical groups which have called upon the LaFollette banner, the aspects that are being made to racial, religious or class prejudice and hatred hence all such minority organizations "are opposed to the welfare of all peaceful and civilized communities." That is why General Dawes opposes such bodies, "whatever the high purpose they claim—whatever name they may be called—that take the law into their own hands."

"Our Constitution," said General Dawes, "stands for religious tolerance and freedom. This happy country has never been through a religious war, such as those which devastated Europe in the centuries past, and brought untold misery to millions of its inhabitants. We have progressed in civilization far beyond that possibility, but to inject religious and racial issues into politics is contrary to the spirit of the Constitution."

That has been the "line" of the Republican party from its inception, was the attitude of the Cleveland convention; is the attitude of President Coolidge and General Dawes, very definitely expressed and clearly understood before Candidate Davis conceived the notion that it would advance his political fortunes to reopen an issue injected into the campaign by the Democrats, for the results of which their leader must now accept the responsibility.

Being a reaffirmation of the Republican position with respect to all questions relative to preserving the integrity of the Constitution and upholding the majesty of the law, Gen-

LaFolletteism Is Socialism

By FRED R. MARVIN
Editor Searchlight, Depart. New York Commercial
What's the "idea?"

LaFolletteism is Socialism. LaFollette will appear on the ticket this fall as the regular candidate of the one political party—the Socialist Party.

He will take the place of their heretofore regular candidate, Eugene V. Debs.

Eugene V. Debs is the chairman of the Socialist National Committee.

It will be recalled Debs served a term in a Federal penitentiary for disloyalty to this country. LaFollette supported the Socialists in their fight to prevent Debs' conviction.

Socialism and Communism are different names for the same thing.

They both have the same objectives—

The abolition of government, patriotism, the private property right, inheritance, religion and the family relations.

Those who call themselves Socialists differ from those who call themselves Communists only in the tactics used to attain these objectives.

The Socialists insist these objectives can be the quickest and easiest to be attained through legislative action. The Communists insist these objectives can be the quickest and easiest to be attained through a bloody revolution, through force, violence and acts of terrorism.

Every Communist is first a Socialist. One grows from Socialism into Communism as certainly as a boy grows into a man.

The patron saint of both is one, known as Karl Marx. His right name was Karl Weydemacher.

The Conference for Progressive Political Action is a Socialist movement.

It was organized by Socialists. It is managed by Socialists. It is a clever scheme to secure the aid of a large number of farmers, wage-earners and others, in its plan to employ legislative action to destroy this government and abolish the private property right.

The platform upon which LaFollette is asking support is the platform of the Socialist Party. It proposes to abolish all of which, if put into practice, would bring additional ill and lead to the objectives above mentioned.

What's the idea? The idea is found in the following in a "Letter of Instructions" from the Communist International to its agents in the United States.

"The Communist Party must remember it is not its purpose to reform the capitalist state. The purpose, on the contrary, is to cure the workers (and farmers) of their reformist illusions through their own experience. Demands upon the state for immediate concessions must be made regardless of the state's power to grant them without weakening itself.

"The Communist must participate as revolutionists in all general elections. Not in order to avoid a violent revolution, but in order to use the election campaign to revolutionize the workers (and farmers).

"Class conscious, courageous and wise Communists as the elected representatives of the workers (and farmers), can always find the possibility to give effective lessons to revolutionize the working class."

LaFollette is class conscious. He is courageous. And he is wise!

oral Dawes comments on the Klan and other "minority organizations," it is more than an answer to the challenge of Candidate Davis—so much more so that the heated denunciation of the Klan by the Democratic leader will serve no purpose other than to tear open afresh the wounds inflicted at the Madison Square convention.

chance to manufacture and sell their opinion is entitled to the nation-wide hearing it is receiving.

Pennsylvania's 400 Potato Growers have pointed out to farmers of the nation that the Keystone State can really grow potatoes. It is well that that fact has been given wide publicity.

There are other facts about our state's potato industry which should also be made known, particularly to growers in Pennsylvania. Here are some of them, they relate to the capital city of the state, which, it should be remembered, is only one of the large consuming centers.

During 1933 Harrisburg unloaded 352 cars of potatoes, besides those hauled into the city by wagon and motor truck. Of these 352 carloads of potatoes sold in the state's capital only 31 were grown in Pennsylvania.

The remaining 321 carloads were grown in Maine, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, New York, New Jersey and Eastern Shore and Southern sections. Twenty-five cars of Maine potatoes were shipped in at a cost for freight of 40 cents per bushel.

MEN AND WOMEN IN NEWS OF THE DAY.

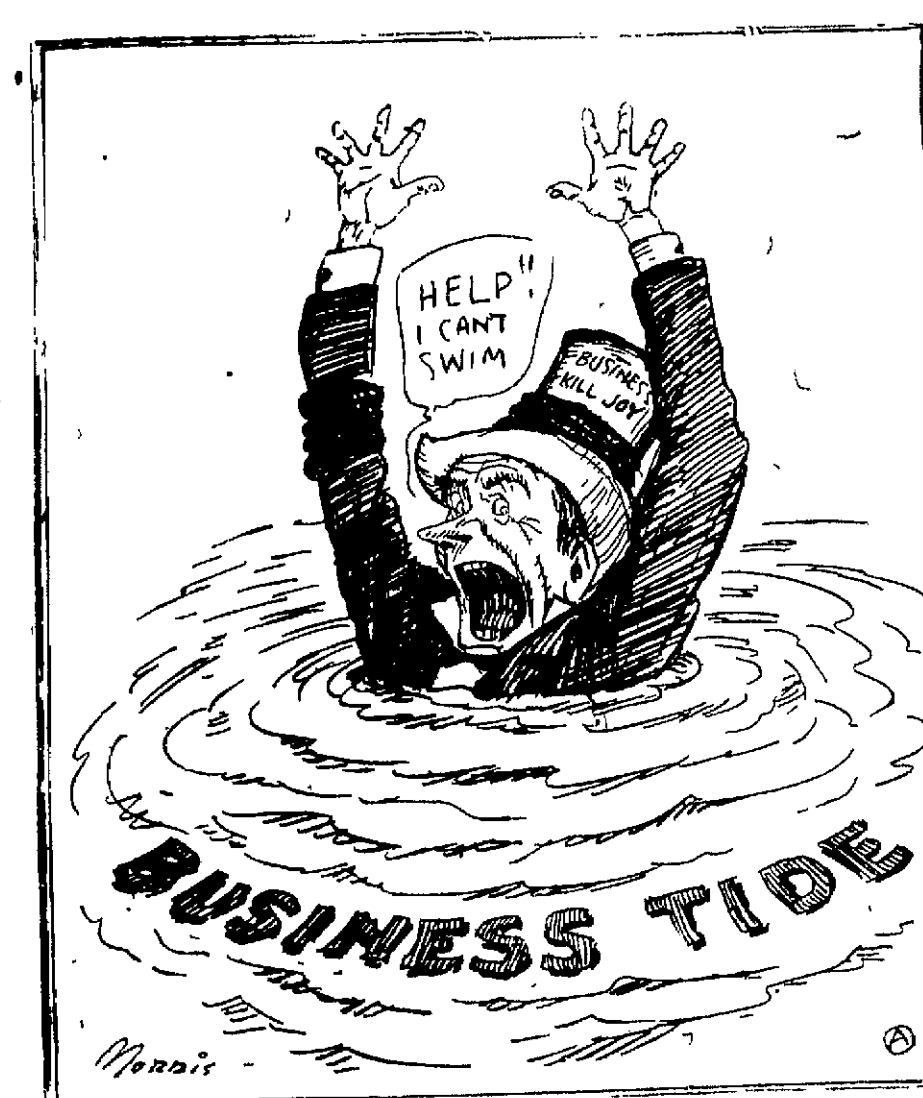

Lady Beatty, wife of the First Sea Lord of the British Admiralty, and divorced wife of Marshall Field, Jr., of Chicago, had a narrow escape from death with her 15-year-old son and Lady Edman while both were in the Baltimore, Md., that America at least should have a commendation to talk affairs over with the officials of British Russia. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., on a world tour to gather marine specimens, has been compelled to put back into Casablanca, Morocco, on his way to the Azores, because of an accident to her machinery. Mrs. Lucie Myers, of Hammond, Ind., is believed to be the first woman in the United States ever to be elected president of a State police organization. She has been a probation officer for a number of years.

This all makes good business—for the railroads. The former who own railroad stock may figure that it all comes back into their pockets in the end. They not so fortunate hope to get some of those dollars by winning back their Pennsylvania markets. More efficient production, proper grading and good selling methods will turn the trick.

There are those who weep and mourn
Round about us every day
Never broke so fair a dawn
That all hearts are gay.

Never in the crying dawn
Have you helped a faltering one
Do you help again?

Peace is but a fleeting thing,
Difficult to keep,
Nonsense tonight who dance and sing
With the moon may weep.

Follow travelers one and all

There is always a pressing need

Pain and sorrow free
That a man could truly say
"None has need of me."

Scottsdale Community Event at Idlewild Best Yet Held
by Lodge.

FINE SPORTS PROGRAM

Special to The Courier
SCOTTSDALE, Aug. 25.—The community picnic at Idlewild Saturday under the auspices of the Scottsdale Lodge of Odd Fellows was larger and better this year than ever before. The heavy rain of Friday night kept a large number of people away, but at that 8,000 attended from Scottsdale and it is estimated that fully 10,000 went from other towns around. There were three sections of trails with forty coaches, and 700 automobiles at the grounds.

After the arrival of the picnickers, the children from the Ben Avon Orphan Home, who were the guests of the lodge, gave a short musical program, and the girls drilled. Then the flag drill was given. These drills are the same as had been put on at Atlantic City and Philadelphia.

The baby of the home, who is not quite two years old, made a decided hit.

Following this dinner was served. At 1 o'clock, under the direction of Frank Gano, the sports program was begun. The first event was a 50-yard dash for boys from 10 to 12. The first prize was won by Lloyd Wolinsky of Elverson, the second by Steve Cernovsky of Swadlow, and the third by Ferner Waugaman of Scottsdale.

Other events were:

100-yard dash for girls from 8 to 12. First prize, Mary Ann Melinger; second, Virginia McClain; third, Dorothy Reynolds, all of Scottsdale.

One hundred-yard dash for boys from 13 to 16 years, first prize, Leslie Ware, Scottsdale; second, Oliver Shannon, Elverson; third, Harry Brent, Elverson.

500-yard and 1000-yard races—First prize, Harry Brent, Scottsdale; second, Lee Leavens, Scottsdale; third, Edward Percer, Hawkeye.

One hundred-yard dash for girls, 12 to 16—First prize, Olga Shultz, Ben Avon Home; second, Mary Mitchell, Elverson; third, Mary Mitchell, Elverson; fourth, Gertrude Taylor of Scottsdale and Gertrude Fyock of Ben Avon.

500-yard dash—First prize, Louise Lane, Scottsdale; second, Ivy Mitchell, Connelville; third, Mrs. Grant Hickey, Ruffalo.

One hundred-yard dash for men, 17 to 21—First prize, Herb Kopf, Scottsdale; second, Walter Medorowicz, Elverson; third, Homer Hostetler, Scottsdale.

500-yard dash—First prize, Roy Shupe, Scottsdale; second, George Miller, Scottsdale; third, William Shallenberg, Scottsdale.

Tug of war ten men on a side captained by Charles Carroll and F. J. Lutzman, Carroll's side winning the prize of $10.

While there was some dancing in the morning the main dance began at 2 o'clock. The prize was won by Mr. and Mrs. Fuller. The prize for best fox trotting went to William Hilton, Scottsdale, and Mary Thompson, Elverson.

The ball game began at 3 o'clock and was a very promising and interesting one until the sixth inning when the score stood 5-5 in favor of the Elversons. On account of a decision by the umpire they became dissatisfied and forfeited the game 9-0 in favor of Scottsdale.

The Odd Fellows gave away during the day 136 gallons of ice cream, 135 cases of pop, life savers, balloons, chewing gum, crackerjack, and pop guns, while Shuster & Gormley of Connelville gave away the coffee.

Lightning Strikes School.

Friday night during the heavy storm the Scottsdale High School was struck by lightning. The chimney was damaged. In striking the lightning sent in a fire alarm. A truck responded but there was no fire. The chimney and some tile on the roof will have to be repaired.

FEED NERVES PLENTY OF PHOSPHATE IN SUMMER

RUN DOWN MEN AND WOMEN NEED IT MOST.

Keep Minded Men, Energetic and Successful, Rely On It.

Men and women, nervous and fretful, easily upset and often fatigued need plenty of organic phosphate and the sooner they heed this advice the better their health will be.

In every one of the millions of cells that make up your body phosphate is a most important part.

Your nervous system, your brain, your blood and even your bones must have a sufficient supply of phosphate or weakness, nervousness and a general run-down condition, as well as lack of normal mental power is sure to result.

Big men of affairs—men who control industries because of sheer will power and nervous force, know this, or if they don't, are clever enough to have a physician who does.

Physicians know and more are realizing that Phosphates are as indispensable at drug stores as a necessity to over forty per cent of men and women, because present day foods do not contain enough phosphate to give the body and especially the nervous system the supply it needs.

If the weather is dreary to men and women who are weak, thin, nervous, timid and lacking in vigorous development because it makes their vitality almost to the breaking point.

To all such people Evans Triple Phosphate is recommended because it is the one organic phosphate which, when absorbed by the system will supply the element necessary for a vigorous healthy body free from any suggestion of weakness or disordered nerves.

Your druggist has Evans Triple Phosphate in the original packaging with complete instructions for best results.—Advertisement

Imitation Jewelry Is Attractive in Her Hair

The fed for imitation jewelry is reflected in the beautiful ornaments for the hair, in girdles and motifs designed to be worn with the latest models in evening dress in the coming months. They are made of net, studded closely with rhinestones, pearls or colored stones. Some of the bonnet are as close as almost to the hair, matching sparkling eyes, and are artistic after an oriental type.

Girdles, ornaments, long-fringed tassels and motifs for applique are all of this kind and are much worn. The latest combs are lovely. The antique combs of the Spanish shape that had such a vogue during the winter frolic and shell especially, are less seen now than the smaller shapes set with stones.

The rhinestone combs are the most popular, and the low wide sort is quite the newest. These combs have an appeal for women who still have their tresses attached. For the one with bobbed locks there are the prettiest fastening slender ribbons, as well as the wide swathing bandeaux.

Primrose Day Memorial to English Statesman

England's "Primrose day" is a tribute to the memory of Lord Beaconsfield. The story is that when he was a young man he made a bet of a pair of gloves with a lady respecting a wreath of yellow blossoms, the point in dispute being whether they were real or artificial. Disraeli stated that they were real and won the bet. The lady thereupon presented him with one of the primroses and Disraeli, with the impetuous gallantry of youth, vowed that he would treasure the flower and adopt it as his badge. "Primrose day" was founded in 1882. Next year it was determined that an annual festival should be inaugurated. Curiously enough, the primrose has for centuries been esteemed an unlucky flower among the English country folk. Shakespeare alludes to the superstition; and to this day in East Anglia, as well as throughout the western counties, it is esteemed disastrous to take a single primrose into a farmhouse. Serious loss among chickens, lambs and calves will, it is averred, inevitably result.

Primitive Homes

Leva blocks roughly quarried provide the rural Highlander with his building material. His farmstead consists of a group of small cottages joined together. The lava blocks are laid one on the other and the crevices are stopped up with moss or earth. Some of these houses have wood rafters, but the majority of them have whale ribs instead. These ribs are covered with brushwood, on top of which turf is heaped. The turf bears a good crop of grass, which is carefully cut for hay. The houses have no chimneys, and a fire is never kept in any room except the kitchen, and the coldest weather. The smoke passes out through a hole in the roof. The only windows are pieces of glass or thin skin, given to ventilation, and the atmosphere of the house is almost unendurable to a foreigner. The natives' sense of smell is dulled by the universal habit of taking snuff.

Asia Like House's Roof

The continent of Asia, according to Dr. Sven Hedin writing in Popular Mechanics Magazine, is like the roof of a house. It is in shape, falling off gently in the various directions. From its crown rain water is pouring down in all directions. "No matter where the watercourses arise they are still, as they sweep onward, crossed here and there and again by almost innumerable paths, and countless like waterfalls, the bridges of the river bridges, Doctor Hedin says, are built everywhere on the same principle, but the primitive bridges with which Asia abounds are of the most diverse character. He enumerates "bridges of stone, of tile, of iron and cement, of chains, ropes and cables of wood, posts, plants and branches, and the natural rocks which in the course of time have broken down from a upland ravine and tumbled down into some pool where they now serve as means for the river."

Tom Gibbons Is Back, Minus the "Jack."

Tom Gibbons, of St. Paul, has returned from London, where he has been hooked by the English heavyweight, Kicking in three rounds. Gibbons received only one-third of the promised $55,000 purse, the promoter going into bankruptcy. He was full of praise, nevertheless, of the treatment accorded him by the English.

Capstan Gets Set-back At Hands of Carnegie; Defeat Makes Third in Week's Time

Threatened Battles by Glass Blowers Are All Checked; Score Is 4-2.

FIRST DEFEAT FOR ALEX

"Rube" Alexander's winning streak was brought to a halt Saturday when the Carnegie Independents of Bradock carried off honors from the Capstan Independents at the South Connellsville grounds by a 4-2 score. Rube's best defeat for the season came after he had won 24 consecutive games. Alexander pitched one of his best games Saturday, allowing the crack visiting outfit only four hits and whiffing 12 men, hitting one batsman and leading one walk. Capstan gathered seven hits off Blado, who breezed five glass blowers. At various stages of the game, when the Magvillers threatened to rally, only spectacular and miraculous holding of the visiting team cut the rallies short. The visiting crew talked up one over in the fifth frame on two hits. After Bell breezed, Dombro singled and stole. Krick almost the third strike but Jodas came through with a timely single, Dombro crossing the pan. The side was retired by Alexander, single handed, whiffing the third victim.

The glass blowers came back in their half and tied the game. Davis singled and went to third when Krick fouled Rully's grounder. Rully stole second on the next pitched ball. Eugene Dawson walked for the first out. Davis talked on Moorman's sacrifice bunt. Alexander was thrown out. Pith to Krick for the third out.

The fatal blow was rendered in the seventh when the visiting aggregation sent three men across the pan. Pith opened with a single and went to second when Alexander hit Bell with a pitched ball. Dombro watched the third strike cross the pan. Dushaw helped the visitors by blowing Krick's easy grounder. Pith tallying easily, Jodas breezed for the second out. Blado decided to win his own game and sent a wicked single to left. Bell and Krick scoring. Worblek missed the third strike for the final out.

The Magvillers sent another rally across in the eighth frame. "Pep" Francis opened the inning by sending a double to center. He went to third when Pith fumbled "Chip" Francis' grounder, the latter being safe. "Chip" stole second. Dushaw sent a long sacrifice fly to deep left. "Pep" tallying. Pith threw out George Dawson for the final out.

The glass blowers threatened to score in the third frame but the Bradock side put a stop to it by a fast double play. After Moorman whiffed, Alexander pulled out a single and "Pep" Francis followed suit. Rube going to third. On an attempted double steal, Alexander was caught at the pan while "Pep" was nabbed at second. Blado to O'Hara to Krick to Jodas.

Alexander proved his mightiness throughout every stage of the game. He came in through single-handed in three innings. He whiffed one in the first, another in the third and two in the last inning.

"Pep" Francis played a bang-up game, getting three safe hits, including the only double of the game, while Jimmy Davis came through with two singles. The former accepted 11 chances with ease. Davis played a good game behind the stick.

Pith played the best ball for the visiting nine. After Davis singled and Rully breezed, the third batter for the Carnegie club made a spectacular pick-up and lightning throw to O'Hara, forcing the stellar backstop for the home team. The defeat made the third for Capstan within about a week. All the lost games have been by close scores.

The fans were given a rare treat of baseball in the hill stadium despite the fact that the home outfit was defeated. Another rare treat is store this evening when the Divada Independents will clash in another combat.

The score:

CAPSTAN	R	H	P	A	E
F. Francis, 1	1	2	11	0	0
G. Francis, 2	0	0	1	0	0

Junction Team Is After Local Series

The crack Star Junction nine would like to arrange a series, with the Carnegie Independents, according to word received from the Junction outfit recently. The team has been making an impressionable showing everywhere it has played and its latest victory was over the highly touted Divada Independents.

The team has won 35 out of its last 38 games. The Capstan management is requested to get in touch with Michael Hogan of Star Junction.

BROWNTOWN LOSES TO CRUCIBLE TEAM

Special to The Courier.

SCOTTDALE, AUG. 25.—The Fourth Ward baseball team met Crucible Saturday afternoon and was defeated by the close score of 3 to 2.

The Crucible team was composed of former Beckville players and Magviller players. The Fourth Warders were minus five of their regular players but played the best ball they have ever played.

S. Paton held the visitors hitless during the first four innings. Fourth Ward scored once in the first inning and another in the second, while Crucible counted two in the fifth on a home run and two singles.

The game was tied until the ninth when Minor, the first man to face Paton, hit a long home run to extreme left ending the game.

Last Friday Stewart defeated the Fourth Ward by a score of 5 to 1, in the third game of a four game series. The fourth of this series of games will be played at Ellsworth Park on September 1.

Crucible will play a return game at Ellsworth Park on September 13. The Fourth Ward will journey to Dawson and meet the Divada team next Friday.

DIVADA AND CAPSTAN TEAMS WILL CLASH AT LATTER'S LOT TODAY

Two blood thirsty ball clubs will clash this evening at the South Connellsville grounds when the Divada Independents meet the Capstan Independents. With the Capstan outfit boasting two wins over the Divada crew and one over the Dickerson Run nine, the tri-towners will come to the Magvillers home lot to get revenge.

One of the greatest battles of the year is expected to be staged. The game will be called at 8 o'clock sharp.

The glass blowers, having lost two straight games, will go out after the Divada scrap with a determination to break the losing spell. The visiting aggregation will present one of the strongest line-ups in the coke region against the Magvillers. With a crippled outfit, the glass blowers will be called upon to use every ounce of energy to win the tilt.

"Jed" Moorman will go out for his 25th victory of the year and will try to annex the Capstan's 40th win of the season. Jack Monette, crack southpaw of the coke region, will hurt for the Divada team. Jack began the present season with the tri-towners but later went to Allison. He has twirled several games for the Wilkes of Dawson. A pitcher's duel is expected to be staged between the two slab men.

A record crowd is expected to witness the tilt. A large delegation will attend the game from the tri-town district.

Dickerson Run Team Of P. & L. E. League Finally Wins Again

Skipper "Bill" Addis and his railroad crew from the Dickerson Run shops finally broke the losing jinx that was trailing them in the Pittsburg & Lake Erie Railroad League by

RESCUED WHITES FROM MASSACRE

Aged Daughter Tells How Chief Robinson Foiled Black Hawk's Plan.

Chicago.—Linking the Indian village of Chicago with the present industrial metropolis there is an old Indian woman now living on the forest preserve who unites the period when Black Hawk visited her home to the year 1924.

She is Mrs. Frank Ragor, daughter of Alexander Robinson, chief of the Potawatomi, Chippewa and Ottawa tribes, who was killed just after the Fort Dearborn massacre and later buried in an Indian cemetery near the Des Plaines river.

The great chief died in 1873, and is buried in an Indian cemetery near the Des Plaines river, where Lawrence Avenue meets the Des Plaines river.

Perhaps the only piece of land in Illinois which has never been owned by a white man, and never will be, is the homestead of Chief Robinson's daughter, where the old woman now resides and which will become part of the forest preserve when she dies.

It is part of the two sections of land given by the government to her father in 1820 for his work in the interest of the whites. The coalition of the Indian tribes of this territory in their last effort to wipe out the whites completely failed principally because Chief Robinson did not accept the offer of war made to him, but said nothing about it until it was too late for the hostile Indians to get together.

Talks of Black Hawk's Visit.

When the newspaper correspondent was introduced to Mrs. Ragor she greeted him cordially and began to talk with great good nature. She does not know her age, but must be about ninety years old. She is thin and shrunken in appearance, and her long, lean fingers seem strangely unlike the fingers of a white woman.

"I remember when Black Hawk used to come to my father's house," said Mrs. Ragor, when asked to talk of her celebrated father. "He brought about twenty-five other members of his tribe with him. He was a big fellow, and very dark, very dark. That's how he got his name of Black Hawk. His Indians danced and stayed around my father's house for some time.

"Those were the days that I enjoyed life. I had a good time when I was a girl. My father owned forty head of Indian ponies and I used to ride with the other chiefs' daughters. And I'll tell you I could ride a horse, and have her voice rise to a shrill cry of joyous enthusiasm.

But the ordeal was quite too much for her, and she complained that her head hurt her and asked the reporter to come to see her again.

"I can't see a thing," she said, "but my head did not hurt I would talk a long time with you. I have done more talking today than I have done in a long time."

Historians uniformly declare that Chicago was a great day of gratitude to Chief Robinson for refusing the urgent invitation of his friend, Black Hawk, to join in a war of extermination of the whites. This was to be the last stand of the Indians in the Northwest territory, and it ended in dismal failure because of the wisdom of Chief Robinson.

San of Canadian Voyageur.

A Chicago history of 1876 speaks of Chief Robinson as follows:

"Alexander Robinson was the son of a Canadian voyageur of Scottish descent in the employ of a fur company, and his mother was a Potawatomi woman. He was bred to his father's occupation and became a useful man in his domain, as well as a close friend of the Indians, which came to be

Police Reporter Is Now Youngest Rabbi

There is a world of difference between a police reporter and a rabbi. One would scarcely think of seeking a theological student among the reporters of a police court.

Rabbi Joseph M. Taxay of Cincinnati is the youngest rabbi in the United States. He is twenty-three and established the new record of completing the standard nine-year course in theological training in five years. He was valedictorian of his class, editor of the Jewish synagogue publication, and president of the senior class. Before taking up his theological studies he was a police reporter on a Pittsburgh paper. He is a descendant of a great rabbi of Prague, a leading figure in Jewish history.

He rose to the position of principal chief of the Potawatomi, and remained such till their removal in 1835.

"In 1820 he built what was called the Miller house on Wolf's point. To him it was a place where he entertained not only his Indian friends, but such white persons as wished to secure Indian trade by the distribution of presents among them.

"Mr. Robinson was early in the employ of Conant & Mack as an Indian trader on the Fox river, and afterward was employed in the same service on the Des Plaines. He spoke both the English and Potawatomi languages with ease, and on conventional occasions acted as interpreter.

"It is not known just when he sold his house, but in 1822 Samuel Miller kept tavern there—the same who married Elizabeth Kinsie, the third child of John Kinsie by his first wife, Margaret.

"In 1835 Alexander Robinson built his second residence between Lake and Randolph streets on the West side, near the Green Tree tavern. His place was generally alive with Indians, to the declining of their glories in the latter days of Chicago. Groups of blankets slung on their backs, in black dark pockets, and an equal number of beavers, bedecked with paint and ornamented with feathers, hung round the doors in listless dalliance, while among them a few white drummers might sometimes be seen distributing whisky to secure their trade.

"Made With War Dance.

"A few hours' belated yelling and a war dance would wind up the scene, and with the usual hours of the morning tranquility would be restored.

a recipient of Robinson's favor, and no one so high in his estimation as to be unapproachable through the common forms of respect. Being a half-Indian and having a wife of the same race, he was shut out from civilized society socially, and to have cut loose from the Indians would have left him without influence and alone in the world.

In 1888 Philip Carpenter presented the temperance pledge to him (the first, says Mr. Carpenter, that was ever drawn up in Chicago). After a moment's reflection, he signed it at the same time proving the sincerity of his resolution by drinking a glass of whisky from his pocket and emptying its contents on the ground.

"The removal of his tribe was the turning point in his life. The sense now came directly to him which he chose, as an Indian or a civilized life. After weighing the matter, in consideration of his children's best good, he chose the latter, not without painful agonies on his part, and was disappointed on the part of his tribe.

"Soon after their removal he moved to his reservation on the Des Plaines river, and became a farmer highly esteemed by all who knew him. He died in 1872 at the age of 116."

Devil's Tower Monument Rises 600 Feet Into Air

Washington.—Devil's Tower National monument is one of the most conspicuous features in the Black Hills region of Wyoming. The tower rises 600 feet above a rounded ridge of sedimentary rocks, which itself rises 600 feet above the Belle Fourche river, says the Department of the Interior. Its sides are dotted by great columns which stand nearly perpendicular, except near the top, where they round in and near the base, where they round in. The base emerges into a platform of broken columns lying on a platform of buff sandstone. The whole presents a never-to-be-forgotten spectacle.

The great columns of which the tower consists are mostly pentagonal in shape, but some are four or six-sided. Each column is about six feet in diameter and the whole branched together like a bundle of matches. In places several columns unite in their upper portion to form a large fluted column.

The Devil's Tower was useful to the aborigines as a landmark from which to direct their courses across the plains.

The white pioneers of civilization later on used the tower as a landmark in their exploration of the great Northwest. Still later, the great warriors in the Sioux and Crow Indian country, during the Indian wars of the last century, directed their marches by the aid of this tower, for it is visible in some directions for nearly a hundred miles.

Cities Draw People

Munich, Germany.—Every thirteenth inhabitant of the world lives in a city of more than 100,000 population, according to calculations made by a local statistician. There are 400 cities on this globe whose population exceeds 100,000. Of these, 242 are in Europe and their average population is 200,000. In Europe alone the proportion of persons living in large cities is even greater than for the whole world. For example, Germany on European soil lives in a city of 100,000 inhabitants or more.

Western Pennsylvania, favored the Grangers with several selections. He sang "Linger Awhile," "Don't Mind the Rain," and "That Old Gang of Mine." Mr. Williams has sung on numerous occasions at Station KDKA at Pittsburgh. The Fairchance Brass Band furnished music outside on the grounds and gave a concert during the progress of the sports program.
Mr. Rumberger offered a resolution thanking the persons who helped to make the picnic a success that it was.
He announced that the Grangers will have a special display at the fair this year. Four Grangers have already made entries and two more are wanted. Three premiums, $75 $50 and $25 will be given.

The merrymakers enjoyed a delightful basket picnic under the trees in the park at noon. Despite the cloudy appearance during the day an excellent time was enjoyed by all.
Old Sol, about 1:30 o'clock sent his powerful rays over the park and soon had the patrons seeking relief under the trees.

The Gallatin Grangers of Spring
Hill township accepting the challenge of the Dawson Grange easily took over the tug-of-war. The victors pulled the others three feet within two minutes of time. Charles Moon was in charge of the Dawson team of 10 while Emmet Lyons captained the victors. A silver cup, held by Dawson, was awarded to the winning team.
